

Greg joined Lauth as Vice-President of construction in 1986 and was ultimately promoted to President at which time he became a partner. During his 30 year career, he has been involved in all types of commercial construction projects and was instrumental in helping Lauth become one of the nation's largest developers. Today, Greg is involved in the oversight of the company's nationwide portfolio of properties.

Outside of the office, Greg devotes his time and energy to his family and improving the community through work with Our Lady of Greenwood Catholic Church. He is a member of the Young President's Organization and the International Council of Shopping Centers.
